Jack Derbyshire Passed Away On Monday Morning

Came to Coleman in 1907; Had Suffered Lengthy Illness; Funeral Held This Afternoon.

Another Coleman old-timer passed along to his reward early Monday morning when John William Derbyshire, 68, died after an illness of more than four years. Born at Tyldesley, Lancashire, England, Mr. Derbyshire grew into young manhood in that town and married there in 1903. In 1907 he came with his family to Canada, settling first at Lundbrock, where they stayed for eight months before moving to Coleman where they have remained till the present.

He gained employment with International in 1907 and remained with the company until four years ago when sickness forced his retirement. Since that time he has confined his activities to his vegetable gardens, which, during the summer months were something to be admired. He was also particularly fond of children and liked to have them around him.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. N. D. Smith, of Vancouver and formerly of Lethbridge, Mrs. F. H. McKay, of Blairmore; and a son, Jack, who resides at home. Also three grandchildren, Ellen and Frances McKay and Norma Smith; three brothers, Alex. and Thomas, of Vancouver, and George, of Coleman, and one sister, Mrs. A. MacAskill, of Drumheller. The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock, a service being conducted in St. Alban's church with the Rev. W. E. Brown officiating. Interment was in Coleman Union cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers included Robert Gilles, Tom Flynn, Dick Greenhaigh, R. Nakoff, Tom Holstead, I. Neilson and Tom Bowen. Pallbearers included Melville Cornett, Fred Fisher, Tom Higginbotham, George Morgan, Edwin Barnes and Jack Nash.

Mrs. Smith had been called home from Vancouver prior to her father's passing and arrived here Friday afternoon.

Mrs. J. L. Tenney, of Lethbridge, a friend of the family, has been the guest of Mrs. Derbyshire during the week.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED
Miss Mary Aikken Lynne, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lynne, of Edmonton, whose engagement is announced by her parents to Owen James Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Jones, of Coleman. The wedding will take place at St. Stephen's College chapel on Mar. 2.

H. A. Shayler To Retire From C.P.R. Service

Has Been In Charge of Crows' Nest Roundhouse for past 31 Years; Plans on Residing At Coast.

Another esteemed and trusted employee of the Canadian Pacific Railway has come to the end of his railroad career and will enjoy the balance of his years in blissful retirement in the mid breezes of the west coast. H. A. Shayler, foreman of the roundhouse at Crows' Nest for the past thirty-one years is scheduled to retire on pension from the Canadian Pacific Railway employ at the end of today's shift, Feb. 28.

Mr. Shayler entered the employ of the CPR at the age of 26, when he started as a boiler maker at Brandon, Man. He was in Brandon eight years when his ability was recognized in being sent west to take charge of the roundhouse at Crows' Nest in July, 1915. He has been in this particular job and in the same little village ever since. It is here that his wife and himself have seen their three daughters and son grow up and go out to fend for themselves. The eldest daughter, Nora, is a registered nurse and resides at Antigonish, N.S. The second daughter, Eunice, is the wife of Bill Fraser Jr., the third daughter, Joan, is the wife of Fred Brown, of Cranbrook, Stanley, the son has just recently returned from overseas and at present resides at Nelson where he is employed as a machinist.

Last September Mr. and Mrs. Shayler motored to the coast to look over property, but found none to their liking. On March 3 they will again set forth for the west coast and will again look for property in which they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Shayler are quite well known in Coleman and their friends here join in wishing them happiness in their new home and many years of health to enjoy their well earned retirement.

Mr. Shayler's successor is expected to be Mr. E. H. Andrews, of Coquitlam, B.C., who a few years ago was night foreman at the roundhouse at Crows' Nest. Mr. Andrews is a married man, there being one daughter.

Armoured Brigade Workshop To Be Established In Pass With Headquarters At Blairmore

Col. T. E. Snow, D.C. Military District 13, Calgary, and Major H. J. Towerton, ED, special assistant to the D.C. Calgary, addressed a representative meeting of the citizens of the Crows' Nest Pass at a public meeting held in Blairmore Wednesday evening in connection with the formation of the 22nd Armoured Brigade, RC EME, in the Crows' Nest Pass.

W. H. Chappell occupied the chair, and after briefly explaining the reasons and objects of the meeting, called upon Major M. G. Smith, manager of the Royal Bank, Blairmore, to introduce the speakers of the evening.

Col. Snow expressed his thanks for the fine attendance of the people of the Pass and went on to explain the requirements for the formation of an armoured brigade workshop unit. Aside from the military requirements, he explained that there were many opportunities for the personnel and women folk through community activities at the drill hall.

Speaking on parades, Col. Snow explained that two parades of two hours per week would be necessary with two weeks at camp each year. Two weekly parades would constitute one day at prevailing army rate of pay. He also stated that morning classes could be arranged to accommodate the men employed on the afternoon shift at the coal mines in the district. He also stated that it was the department's wish to erect permanent buildings as soon as possible, but due to labor and material shortages the buildings would not be constructed for two years at least, but in the meantime there are some suitable buildings in Blairmore which could be used temporarily, and that an engineer would report on their condition and suitability in the near future.

Major Towerton gave the meeting a complete lineup on the arms, equipment and machinery needed for the establishment of the brigade workshop unit. Vehicles, from motorcycles to tanks, would be supplied by the department with a full complement of armaments. Total of all ranks for a brigade workshop unit numbered 285 officers, non-coms and men, and a few specialists from the permanent army would be posted in the Pass.

Among those present at the meeting who spoke in favor of a brigade workshop unit being formed in the Crows' Nest Pass were Mayor F. Aboussafy, J. J. McIntyre and Fred Antrobus, of Coleman; W. McEachern and W. Hayne, of Bellevue; Donald Thornton, Hillcrest; John Kerr, Frank; Mayor E. Williams, A. R. Bourne, F. J. Lote and S. G. Bannan, Blairmore.

It was agreed to start immediately to organize the brigade unit in the Crows' Nest Pass, and citizens' committees are to be formed to work in conjunction with the army officers.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed by the meeting to Col. Snow and Major Towerton for their attendance, and for the valuable information presented.

Preliminary work in connection with the formation of the 22nd Armoured Brigade Workshop, RC EME, in the Crows' Nest Pass area is progressing satisfactorily. Lt. Col. Jones, district engineer officer, and Major Thompson, RCE, were in Blairmore on Tuesday for the purpose of looking over buildings which might be available and could be used as temporary quarters until more satisfactory accommodation can be constructed. As Col. T. E. Snow said last week, it may not be possible to build an armory for at least two years, and in the meantime temporary accommodation is being arranged.

It is understood that this unit will number 285 all ranks, and of this number there will be a total of 221 tradesmen. For the benefit of those not versed in service terms, tradesmen is a term applied to personnel of a unit who are qualified in various crafts and arts which are applicable to or can be used in meeting the day to day requirements of the three services.

The 22nd Armoured Brigade, RC EME, includes the following trades in its establishment—blacksmiths, carpenters, coach trimmers and upholsterers, automobile mechanics (including fitters), electricians, instrument mechanics, all branches of radio communication and repair work, sheet metal workers, turners, acetylene and electric welders.

Classes of instruction in all these trades will be conducted by the active army instructors, assisted by members of the local committee who are qualified in special trades.

In addition to the trades mentioned above, this Reserve Army Unit will also give instruction to its members in driving all types of army vehicles, including motor cycles, jeeps, 15-cwt, 3-ton and 6-ton trucks. Two tanks are expected to be included in the training equipment, and full instruction will be given in the handling of these under their own power and by tank transporter.

It is understood that an officer of the RC EME will be in the area next week and will address a public meeting in Coleman on March 4.

Sentinel Motors Has 1946 Ford On Display

Leo Shannon, proprietor of Sentinel Motors, journeyed to Lethbridge on Sunday and returned with the new 1946 Ford which he now has on display in Sentinel Motors garage.

The body design is undoubtedly the best ever put out by Ford and has been admired by all local citizens who viewed it. It has a 90 h.p. motor and the interior is quite roomy. Leather protects the upper and lower portions of the doors against grimy hands or dirty feet, the leather being easily washed with a damp cloth to eliminate stain.

Mr. Shannon is extending an invitation to Coleman and Pass motorists to come in and inspect the car. Those wishing to know prices and technical detail regarding the engine will have their questions answered by Mr. Shannon.

Calgary Army Eliminate Grands From Play-Offs

Army Won 4-0 At Calgary And Lost 1-4 In Coleman To Win Series 5-4; Grands Came Within An Ace of Winning Series.

Paced by the veteran Duke Kwansie, Grands came within an ace of tying their two-game total-goals series with Calgary Army at the arena on Saturday night. Down 4-0 as a result of the game played at Calgary last Thursday, Grands went full out to eliminate the deficit and scored three goals in the first hectic period which saw Army literally hanging on the ropes under a blistering attack.

Kwansie opened the scoring with a goal in the first five minutes. Bill Fraser made it 2-0 a minute later, accompanied by a deafening cheer from a large attendance of spectators. Continued pressure brought another goal at 12 minutes when Neil Andrews punched home Kwansie's assist.

Grands still pressed inside the Army blue-line and in the heat of battle neither team heard the whistle and continued play which culminated in the puck whizzing into the Army net only to be declared "no play." Seconds later Mossel shot the puck about two inches too high over the top of the Army net with Stuart well beaten. Army were powerless to take over control of the game, but put up a dogged defence which held off Grands for the balance of the period.

Heavy ice had taken its toll from the players in the first period and both teams were tired in the middle canto. Grands couldn't maintain the torrid pace set in the first period, but nevertheless were still the aggressors.

Army broke away on a three man attack. Pow stopped the first shot, but the resultant scramble around his net saw Pratt just barely punch the rubber over the goal-line.

The third period was half gone when Coleman's hopes soared to new heights when Kwansie and Mossel combined, the latter beating Stuart with a beautiful shot. Only one goal down on the series Grands tried hard and often the defenceless Pow had to make some wonderful saves with his defence well up the ice and only opponents sailing in on him. He stopped shots which appeared certain goals and drew the applause of the large crowd time and again.

The ice became far too heavy for good hockey and both teams resorted to "golf drives" and skating helter skelter after the rubber. No further scoring resulted and Army skated off the ice a very tired but happy team at having been fortunate enough to have held Grands to four goals.

McTaggart Speaks To Veterans On "Credits"

Many Questions Asked Following A Brief Address; Local Boys To Be Aided In Several Cases.

Mr. S. G. McTaggart, superintendent of Veterans' Re-establishment Credits, Calgary, addressed a meeting in the council chambers on Monday evening on Re-establishment Credits before a well attended gathering of veterans and Coleman Reception and Rehabilitation Committee, George Derbyshire was chairman, due to the unavoidable absence of rehabilitation president S. C. Short.

The question of rehabilitation, stated Mr. McTaggart, fell into two classes. The first class was to give the soldier his clothing allowance once he returned to his original base, give him a certain amount of money and to give him transportation home. The second class was the real problem of rehabilitation, and that was to assist him in rehabilitating himself in civilian life. The Dominion was divided into sixteen sections, each section to aid the veterans within its respective borders. Southern Alberta was served through the Calgary office. The second class was divided into three classifications, viz. 1, Veterans' Land Act; 2, training those veterans seeking some vocation or a university education, etc.; 3, take care of the veterans who were unable to take part in the first two.

The credits, stated Mr. McTaggart, were equal to the basic grant. Credits were to be issued to place the veteran in a job or a home. Credits could be used to purchase a home, repair or modernize a home, or to help pay a mortgage on a home. Persons who did not require to use their credit in any one of the above methods were at liberty to use their credits in the government's veterans' insurance.

This ended Mr. McTaggart's address, and he asked that questions be asked him as by this means he would be better able to clear up points which may be troubling some veterans.

Following are a few of the questions asked:

A local soldier's English bride had had her allowance stopped. Questioner was advised to have a letter sent to the Canadian Wives' Bureau in London regarding her allowance. Cause was due to the fact that the soldier had now received his discharge, and another department was now liable for issuing the English bride her allowances.

How does the National Housing Act work? The veteran pays a certain percentage of the purchase in cash. The balance of the amount is guaranteed by the federal government. The loans are issued by mortgage companies who, due to the government guarantee, grant loans based on smaller than average interest rates.

Can credits be spent on furniture? Yes, providing that the furniture purchases are necessary for the veterans' rehabilitation. Items such as $600 radios, chests of solid silverware are definitely out. Frigidaires are permissible.

When a veteran dies his credits die with him, but not his gratuities, which will be credited to the deceased's estate.

Some Good Advice

Brookington Suggests People Should Stop Talking About Future Wars

Leonard W. Brookington, in an address at New York, suggested that the average person's best contribution to peace would be to stop talking about the inevitability of war—with Russia or with anybody else.

Speaking to a luncheon of the Trust Division of the American Bankers' Association, Mr. Brookington said that without the support of the peoples of the United States, the British Empire and Soviet Russia, peace was a mirage.

He reviewed world events of 1946, noted the expansionist tendencies then seen in the United States, the war with Mexico, the settlement of the Oregon boundary dispute, which established the boundary with Canada at the 49th parallel, and asked: "Don't you think when you hear what the United States was doing then, it was something like what Russia is doing today?"

Mr. Brookington said he would like to see this continent open its doors wide to the suffering who wished to make a new life here.

"If we want to underwrite the peace of the world we can do so only by sacrifice. Peace can be maintained only by no less effort than has been given to war."

For Future Warfare

Must Keep Skilled Personnel For The Manufacture Of Munitions

Canada must keep skilled personnel and equipment for the manufacture of munitions "fluid" if she is to keep pace with rapidly changing development, Col. Malcolm Jolley, president of Canadian Arsenal Ltd., said in an interview.

An industrialist-soldier at 36, Col. Jolley heads the new Crown company which will be responsible for keeping Canada industrially alert for possible war needs. Early in the war he had a leading part in building Small Arms Ltd. and he is the inventor of several small arms improvements, but he is hesitant about making commitments on the future place of guns and bullets.

"When the war ended we had just begun given a glimpse into the future that we didn't fully understand," he said. "To me—and weapons are my business—the prospects are very confused. I can't put the gun in proper perspective in relation to the atom bomb and rocket warfare."

Radio-Active Element

Government Is To Conserve Canada's Supplies Of Thorium

The government has moved to conserve Canada's supplies of thorium, a rare radio-active element being studied as a possible source of atomic energy.

The action was taken through the issuance of a customs order cancelling previous exemptions for the shipment of thorium and mesothorium salts, and reinstating export permit control for the shipment of manufactured items containing thorium.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King disclosed in the Commons last December that Canada was exploring the possibility of using thorium as a substitute for the rarer and more expensive uranium, thus far the only element known to have been utilized to produce atomic energy.

As far as is known, Canada has no deposits of thorium, most of which is mined in India.

WEEKLY RATION FASHION
for a twosome

SUN.	MON.	TUES.	WED.	THU.	FRI.	SAT.
Roast Veal	Cold Roast Veal	Omelet	Curry of Veal	Broiled Liver	Fish	Individual Meat Loaves
3 lbs. 2 coupons						1/2 lb. 2 tokens

If your ration budget indicates a credit of a couple of tokens saved from past eating, you may wish to exchange two full coupons for a Sunday roast. A three pound rolled shoulder of veal should provide for three dinners, any one of which might include a guest or two. A tasty dressing, good brown gravy and baked orange halves are excellent co-partners for its first appearance. And because roasts are not every week occurrences, you'll doubtless appreciate it sliced cold for Monday's dinner. On Wednesday, a curried dish with noodles pinch-hitting for the scarcer rice, will revive the remnants. Eggs, now so market-plentiful and reasonably priced, suggest themselves for Tuesday. Whipped into an elegant omelet, served with a colorful vegetable or two, they will satisfy the most discriminating taste. A boon to your ration status as well as your nutritional level, and on Saturday two tokens will procure half a pound of hamburger for a meat loaf mixture. To give this old standby a new appearance, bake it in custard cups or muffin tins. Then unroll and serve individually with your favored sauce or relish.

On Paying Business

Casa Loma In Toronto Is Now Out Of The Red

Toronto's "White Elephant" is out of the red and into the black ink. Casa Loma, towering "dream castle" built by the late Sir Henry Pellatt from 1911 to 1914 and taken over by the city in 1937 for unpaid taxes, now is paying handsome profits. Mayor Robert Saunders disclosed.

The rambling 98-room structure in west-central Toronto, one of the city's showplaces, went on a paying basis after many lean years through public dances and tours sponsored by a service club (West Toronto Kiwanis).

Net income last year for Casa Loma Spanish for "House on the Hill" was $75,000, part of which went to the city and part to the club's fund for underprivileged children.

Sir Henry, native of Kingston, Ont., collected ideas for the castle on frequent visits to Europe. He died in 1939 when his "dream eagle" was just starting to pay its way.

MUST HAVE HELP

The Owen Sound Sun-Times says: On the farmers' side the great task of production of these essentials of life. But they can't carry on unless given assistance. Production can't be kept up, with a steadily decreasing supply of help. Careful planning on their behalf, along with assurances of just financial returns are essential as they look out on another production season.

Research Plans

Next International Conference To Be Held In London This Coming Fall

Plans for increasing the volume of research work done by the Institute of Pacific Relations were drawn up at meetings held recently in Atlantic City. The Canadian Institute of International Affairs is the Canadian Council in the I.P.R.

Canada's attending the meeting included: Dr. E. J. Tarr of Winnipeg, a governor of the Bank of Canada; Dr. Alexander Brady and Prof. Edgar Melnick of the University of Toronto; Douglas A. Maclean, national secretary of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs; and Dr. Percy E. Corbett, former dean of the McGill University Law School, now international chairman of the I.P.R.

Members from I.P.R. councils in France, China, Australia, Great Britain, the Netherlands, New Zealand and the United States also attended the meetings.

The next international conference of the Institute will be held in London, England, from Sept. 6-20, 1947, at which the main topic of discussion will be an analysis of allied policy towards Japan, and a survey of the effectiveness of the United Nations Organization in dealing with trusteeship security, dependent area and economic and social problems in the Pacific.

USING COLOR

British industry is starting the use of color as an incentive to bigger output. A North England cotton mill recently announced its intention to paint its looms in lime green and duck egg blue and its walls in green and light gold.

SWIFT CALCULATOR

Mathematical Robot Solves Problems In Very Fast Time

By combining a centuries-old gadget with the latest in electronics, the United States Army came up with a 30-ton monster it calls "The world's fastest calculating machine". It may make possible more accurate weather forecasting, improved industrial products and general advances in science and engineering. The Ordnance department said in unveiling the mathematical robot described as 1,000 times faster than any other calculating machine ever built.

Known as the "eniac"—for "electronic numerical integrator and computer"—this mechanical Einstein designed by scientists of the University of Pennsylvania can solve in hours problems that "would take years" on an ordinary machine.

It can compute in one second the sum of a five-digit number added to itself of 5,000 times. The Eniac also subtracts, divides, multiplies, extracts square roots, and does complex equations.

The machine originally was intended to furnish faster means of computing complicated problems of ballistics, the mathematics of weapons. Scientists say it may offer a swift or calculating mechanism for weather forecasters, industrial designers, construction engineers, astronomers, research scientists and atomic physicists.

While it operates entirely by electronics, and contains no moving mechanical parts, it employs the basic principle of the "abacus" an ancient-style counting board still in use by many Chinese.

The "abacus" utilizes bead-like counters strung on parallel rods or wires. The eniac has thousands of tiny neon light bulbs, arranged in rows of 10 like the beads of an abacus.

When punched cards, containing holes corresponding to arithmetical numbers, are fed into the eniac, the light bulbs flash on and off in proper combinations.

Fast-moving electrons, fed at the rate of 5,000 a second activate the machine, and an ingenious arrangement of electrical circuits determines whether a problem in addition, subtraction, division, multiplication or square rooting is to be done. Answers to problems pop out of the machine on other punched cards.

The machine cost $400,000, including all research and development work, but future models could be built "much more cheaply," scientists said.

HARD ON ARTISTS

British artists are handicapped by a shortage of canvas and brushes which prevents many of them from pursuing their work. It is almost impossible for any one to make a living by painting today, so drastic is the materials position, said an official of the Royal College of Art. "Our students are carrying on by using the backs of used canvases."

BAGS WOLF IN FOX TRAP—

Game Warden Gene Audette was surprised when Arthur Reeve, a farmer at Hull, Quebec, walked into his office with a big burlap bag full of squirming, kicking, snarling wolf. The farmer explained the wolf was caught in his fox trap. "The bag that was caught was frozen. My wife thawed it out and banded it," he added. When Deserve found the beast ambling off with his trap attached, he said, he "gave it an anaesthetic on the head with a stick." The game warden ordered the animal shot.

New Plastic Discovery

It May Revolutionize Many Branches Of Industry

The development by United Kingdom industry of a new material which may prove the perfect plastic is reported by a London News Chronicle correspondent. The correspondent writing from Barrow (the North England industrial centre) states: "Exports from Imperial Chemical Industries have been co-operating with specialists on Vickers Armstrong staff in Barrow shipyard and the result is said to be remarkable. In the opinion of experts, the new material, the name of which has not yet been disclosed, may well revolutionize many branches of industry." The plastic is said to look and feel like candle wax; to be unbreakable, non-inflammable and heat-resisting. Of much lighter density than wood it will float, is waterproof and absorbing and can be sawn like wood.

GOES TO COLEMAN

Clareholm.—Willard Hunt, who until recently has been the express agent at the CPR station at Clareholm, has been transferred to Coleman station. Willard Hunt came here in 1944 from Pincher Creek, and was well known in local sport circles, taking part in baseball last year, and acting in the capacity of secretary-treasurer of the Clareholm hockey club this season, as well as playing on the intermediate hockey team. Before he left he was presented by the hockey club with a leather travelling case in appreciation of the many services rendered that organization by him. His place in the CPR station will be taken by Cecil Leduc.

Q. What causes burning and aching in the chest? Is it a sign of tuberculosis activity?

A. This may occur when activity is present, but in itself is not indicative of it.

We Pay For Good Roads—Let's Have Them

If you drive or maintain a car or truck, either for business or pleasure, you need no instruction on the value of good roads. You have experience of the delays and losses and expensive repairs occasioned by poor roads. Add to these the millions of dollars of lost tourist business that must be charged to Alberta's poor roads every year, and it becomes more urgent than ever that SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE.

THE TIME FOR ACTION IS NOW! The money paid by motorists for licenses and gasoline taxes is sufficient to finance a comprehensive road building program—and the Alberta Government now has such a program before it, planned by the Department of Public Works. This plan should be put into effect without delay.

The Alberta Motor Association has never relaxed its pressure for the modern highway system this province needs. Add your voice to this demand by bringing it to the attention of your neighbors or any group or club to which you belong, and by pressing for action through your representative in the provincial legislature. If you are a car-owner you might also like to join the AMA. Besides its championship of the rights of motorists it offers a host of valuable services that far outweigh the modest fee of $10 a year. Full particulars on request from AMA branches in Calgary, Edmonton or Lethbridge.—Adv.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

WORK TOWARDS GETTING RESIDENT DENTIST

The council and Lions club are working hard in an effort to get a dentist to locate here. That they will eventually succeed is taken for granted.

A great deal of dissatisfaction has been expressed for some time back regarding the lack of a resident dentist. Some have a right to be dissatisfied since they supported the dentist when he was here. There are others, however, who are doing quite a bit of beefing that have failed to give a resident dentist a cent in their lives. They are the people who are always of the opinion that an outside dentist is much superior in skill than the local practitioner. It is they who by their "patronage" drive resident dentists to other communities. It is high time they did a little stock-taking and helped make the community a little better by patronizing professional men who reside here.

The school dental contract, it has been stated, may be renewed. It will undoubtedly be offered to a dentist who will make his home here and will be an added inducement for any dentist who might consider setting up a practice in Coleman.

IS SKATING ARENA TO BE MOVED

Last fall there seemed to be a movement afoot to promote community interest towards moving the skating arena alongside the curling arena in Flummerfelt Park. During the past three months little or nothing has been heard on the subject and the public as a whole appear to be disinterested.

It will require quite a sum of money to demolish the old building and build a modern arena incorporating the many new features which it is proposed to combine with the arena. If the old arena is to be moved then it will have to be moved soon and some definite announcement should be made known within the next few weeks. If it isn't to be moved then let some organization go ahead with plans to beautify the Park. Lions are ready to go ahead with the children's wading pool once it is definitely known what the future of the old rink is to be. The Park could be made into a beautiful spot should an energetic organization draft a long-range plan for its beautification.

WHAT IS RUSSIA'S GAME.

Russia's behavior since the close of hostilities has people of the western world wondering just what is her game. She wants a free hand among the smaller nations of eastern Europe, but also wants to have her say in the matters affecting western Europe. She did very little in the Pacific, but wants her say in the manner in which General McArthur will dictate to the Japanese. She wants booty from Manchuria and has even kept British and American reporters from getting too far into the country. She threw her weight around at the recently concluded United may be allowed into the institution for as long as his term in the forces, his credits taking care of his tuition fees, etc. Should he only be part way through his course by the time his time runs out, then it is up to him to personally come to some arrangement with university authorities to finish his course. The government reserves the right to put a student through university should his time have elapsed, provided he shows remarkable ability and would be an asset both to himself and the country.

Boys who have failed to complete high school and who wish to enter technical school are at liberty to do so, their credits taking care of expenses.

A soldier requiring medical care can contact his local doctor who is at liberty to give him the necessary treatment, involving the government for each treatment. However, if a soldier's wound is such that the local doctor is unable to give it proper treatment, then the doctor gives him a note which is in turn sent to the military hospital, who in turn sends transportation.

Nationa conference, clashing openly and bitterly with Britain's Ernest Bevin. Now comes the sensational spy story, with Russia said to have set up an espionage ring in Canada definitely, and possibly the States and Britain.

Russia of today reminds us of a bully. She is so possessed with her successful fight against the Nazis and her new found world importance that she evidently thinks the world should kneel at her knees in divine blessing for deliverance from evil. Stalin and Molotov know the gigantic aid given the Russian war effort by the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United Nations. Then why do these two key Russian figures permit their government departments to interfere so coarsely in world events?

FALLOW NOT SYMPATHETIC TOWARDS MOTORISTS

W. A. Fallow must have got up from the wrong side of bed Monday morning, judging from his harangue in the legislature. He is peeved at Mayor Ainley, of Edmonton, so to get even he is going to take the Alberta Government Telephone headquarters to Calgary. The Alberta Motor Association is evidently working up too much opinion against Alberta's poor roads so he defends himself by branding the AMA as an association led by politicians and to finish off the day he takes a crack at the CCF which apparently is always good bait for criticism.

In regard to the AMA he made a remark which tens of thousands of Alberta motorists will emphatically disagree and doubtless will let him know about it. Here it is: "I do not believe in ear-marking the revenues from gasoline and motor licenses for road purposes. I do not believe in that any more than I believe in earmarking the whiskey revenue for bigger and better whiskey bottles and bigger and better jails to take care of its victims."

This is a most childish statement and undoubtedly matches Fallow's childish nature for he has proved time and again that he cannot take criticism, no matter from what quarter. He has been in the driver's seat for many years and has been able to get away with his childish behaviour. It's about time Premier Manning gave Fallow's behaviour detailed study and take corrective measures.

Why shouldn't revenue from gasoline and car licenses not be earmarked for highway improvement? Doesn't the motorist pay his full share of the other taxes collected by the government? He most certainly does, then why, simply because he owns a car, should he be penalized by further taxation to the general revenue of the province?

Funds received from gasoline taxes and car licenses when spent on roads, build up greater tourist traffic which in turn benefits the province as a whole. We most certainly disagree with Fallow comparing highway revenues on roads to bigger and better whiskey bottles. The comparison is absurd.

tion to the soldier and provides him with the necessary hospitalization and treatment.

Chairman Derbyshire closed the meeting with a vote of thanks to Mr McTaggart.

Eight Veterans Get Results From McTaggart's Address

An address was given here on Monday evening by S. G. McTaggart, superintendent of Re-Establishment Credits' office, Calgary, on the subject "Re-Establishment Credits." A nice crowd was present to hear the speaker.

As a direct result of the address no less than eight Coleman veterans visited the National Selective Service office the following morning and interviewed James Lote on pension problems. Every one of the eight were given a full explanation on points not clear to them. Mr. Lote told The Journal of one instance where a young Coleman couple came to him Tuesday morning regarding purchase of a home. They had only sufficient gratuity left to put a down payment on the home.

They knew or understood little or nothing about Re-Establishment Credits. When Mr. Lote explained to them where they could use the balance of the gratuity plus some of the credits to purchase the home they were more than overjoyed. In fact the young wife just couldn't believe it. "But just how are we going to pay the government back the money they are advancing to us?" she asked. Mr. Lote finally made it clear the government was not advancing any money, but was giving them money that was actually theirs.

Mr. Lote advises all veterans who are possibly a little puzzled on some points of re-establishment credits to interview their local rehabilitation committee or come directly to him and he will personally help them.

Another point that was brought up for discussion on Monday evening was a hospital bill incurred by a member of a soldier's family. It has been outstanding for some months. The Journal was given to understand Tuesday evening that if that soldier will report at the NSS office, the matter will be taken care of to the soldier's complete satisfaction.

At Bellevue this week end Humphrey Bogart, Alexis Smith and Sidney Greenstreet appear in "Conflict." It is the thrill-story sensation of the year, suspense, suspicion and man-woman madness.

At Blairmore this week end those two comedians, Laurel and Hardy, have fled across the border, down Mexico way for their latest comedy hit, "The Bullfighters," filmed by 20th Century-Fox, but the change of climate only makes them boil all the more in their own oil, for this time they find themselves mistaken for a couple of torrid toreadors and their frantic antics to stay out of the bull-ring give a gag a min-

SUPPLIES OF ALL GRAINS IN MAIN EXPORTING COUNTRIES ARE FIFTEEN PER CENT. LOWER

WASHINGTON.—Supplies of all grains in the principal exporting countries were about 15 per cent. smaller Jan. 1, 1946, than at the beginning of 1945, with wheat stocks down about 25 per cent., the United States department of agriculture reported.

The study by the office of foreign agricultural relations covered the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina. The reduction was attributed to increased exports from the northern hemisphere coupled with two successive short crops in the southern countries.

Wheat supplies in the four countries were reported as 1,382,000,000 bushels, compared with 1,668,000,000 a year ago and 2,206,000,000, in 1944.

"The exportable surplus, estimated at 475,500,000 bushels, from these supplies is much smaller than the estimated world import requirements," the report said.

On other grains the study showed: Rye—supplies of 33,000,000 bushels compared with 48,000,000 in 1945 and 75,000,000 in 1944, with some surplus for export from Argentina and big deficits in the normally large rye consuming countries of Europe.

Barley—supplies of 352,000,000 bushels, down from 394,000,000 a year ago and 442,000,000 in 1944, with Canadian stocks down 30 per cent. and some increase in supplies this year indicated by larger crops in Argentina and Australia.

Cats—supplies of 1,462,000,000 bushels, the only increase for a major grain, up from 1,314,000,000 in 1945 and 1,271,000,000 two years ago, with the United States accounting for the whole rise.

Corn—supplies of 2,011,000,000 bushels, compared with 2,331,000,000 in 1945 and 2,046,000,000 a year earlier, with the principal reduction occurring in the United States and a smaller cut in Argentina; active export operations may start in Argentina in April on a prospective crop of 200,000,000 bushels which is below average.

PLAN CELEBRATION

London Will See British Victory Parade On May 8

LONDON.—The biggest and final British victory celebration will take place May 8 but apart from parades and fireworks it will be a wartime utility model—in other words without plentiful food, clothing and beer. Prime Minister Attlee solemnly announced the plans in the house of commons.

The dominions, including Canada, are expected to be represented in London parades representative of all the services. There will be plenty of military vehicles, war-like displays and some open-air entertainments for children in London parks.

But it will not be possible to erect stands along parade routes as was done for the coronation ceremonies in 1937. There will be no extra rations and no limitless supplies of bunting. There will be no bright presents for children although the "chequer" will provide funds so that a commemorative card with a message from the King can be distributed to school children.

ASSURANCE GIVEN TO PEOPLE OF BRITAIN THAT RATIONING OF BREAD IS NOT LIKELY

LONDON.—Viscount Addison, dominions secretary, in the house of lords assured the people of Britain that British wheat stocks were quite satisfactory and there was no likelihood of bread rationing.

Lord Woolton, food minister during most of the difficult war years, speaking earlier, had criticized Sir Ben Smith, present food minister, and his Labor cabinet colleague for current food shortages.

He declared: "While the cabinet has been planning the new world in which we are to live we seem to have been allowed to slip into a position in which we may have insufficient food to maintain our life and health."

In defense of his colleague, Viscount Addison said conditions had changed since Lord Woolton was food minister. Lord Woolton had the benefit of United States lend-lease and could buy as much as he liked. Lord Woolton had the problem of shipping long but was not faced with a hungry world clamoring for a share of the available supplies and his task was almost easy compared with that of Sir Ben.

"During his speech in the House of Lords, Lord Woolton asked whether Canada had not now sufficient wheat and flour in stock to meet all British needs and how the wheat stocks situation had changed recently."

JAP RULING

Appeal To Be Made Against Legalized Deportation

TORONTO.—Issues involved are of "such crucial importance" to Canadian liberties that an immediate appeal will be made to the privy council against the supreme court ruling legalizing the deportation of some Japanese, the Co-operative Committee on Japanese Canadians announced.

The committee, affiliated with similar organizations across Canada, issued its statement shortly after the Ottawa announcement that a majority decision of the supreme court had upheld validity of orders-in-council as affecting some 10,000 to 15,000 Japanese.

The statement said the fact that a "substantial part" of the government deportation program has been held to be unconstitutional constitutes "a moral victory."

WAS NOT SHARED

United States Holds Exclusive Knowledge Of Atomic Bomb Production

LONDON.—Prof. M. L. Oliphant, one of Britain's atomic bomb experts, agreed with State Secretary James F. Byrnes of the United States that the "know-how" of atomic bomb production is in the exclusive possession of the United States.

Prof. Oliphant said: "There is a great deal of truth in what Mr. Byrnes said. So far as the bomb itself is concerned, British workers have shared completely in making it. Similarly we know all about the manufacture of one of the materials used in it. But as regards the secret of the materials I am not prepared to say what it is—we only know the vaguest outlines of the method of production."

"None of our workers shared in that part of the business," he added.

RADIO SYSTEM

Plans For An Amateur Organization For Air Force

OTTAWA.—Air Minister Gibson announced plans for the organization of an air force amateur radio system comprising radio "hams" who will form a trans-Canada radio network with loaned equipment and be a practical radio auxiliary of the permanent R.C.A.F.

The organization will consist of groups of amateurs affiliated with R.C.A.F. auxiliary sections and in radio contact with squadron signals personnel.

Full membership will be granted to amateur operators more than 16 years old holding an operating and a station license; provisional membership will be granted to those under 16, and to any citizen irrespective of age, who displays an interest in amateur radio, and wishes to work for his license.

WANT NEW CLUB

LONDON.—An appeal for £100,000 ($4,500,000) to build a club in London for United Nations ex-servicemen and women was launched recently at a Downing street tea party given by Mrs. Attlee to 55 London mayors.

APPOINTED FOR CHINA—Magr. Thomas Tien of Tsingtao, China, first cardinal to be appointed for China, is seen here on a visit to St. Mary's Mission house at Techny, near Chicago, on his way to the consistory at Rome.

JAP VESSELS BARRED

WASHINGTON.—The Japanese cannot fish in deep sea areas near United States territory or any of its "island responsibilities," the state department disclosed. Jap fishing vessels are also barred from areas under Allied jurisdiction without permission from countries concerned.

In the first 11 months of World War II, British lifeboats rescued an average of 46 persons a week.

FLOWN OUT OF ARCTIC AFTER 17 YEARS—Seventeen years in the Arctic ended for missionary Rev. Ehemme Basin when he was flown out by an R.C.A.F. plane on a 1,600-mile mercy flight to pick up a sick Eskimo.

EXPLOSION DESTROYS PETERBORO SERVICE STATION—An explosion destroyed the service station and all the personal possessions of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Berry, five miles west of Peterboro, Ont., while the storage tanks were being filled. Berry, shown here, was blown about 25 feet. His wife received burns and bruises.

MUST BE SATISFIED

People Should Have Say Regarding Sarawak's Form Of Government

LONDON.—The famed white rajah of Sarawak—72-year-old Sir Charles Vyner Brooke—leaves here for the Far East March 14 for the last act in the drama of white rulers in Borneo which began a century ago.

In the Far East, Sir Charles will turn over his rich country to Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, commander-in-chief of the southeast Asia command.

Sir Charles views the whole situation with excitement and his attitude is almost an achievement, because the lotus-land of Sarawak became the centre of a controversy as soon as the rajah made an agreement with the colonial office for his state to become a crown colony.

His nephew and heir presumptive Anthony Brooke, has said he will oppose cession of Sarawak by every means possible until he is satisfied the people of the country have the form of government they want, which might not be under the colonial office.

MENNONITES FOR BOLIVIA

LA PAZ, Bolivia.—The Bolivian minister of agriculture has granted permission for the settling of 500 Canadian Mennonite families in areas along the Corumbá-Santa Cruz railroad and north of La Paz. Each family will be given 200 hectares (about 496 acres) of land and will be guaranteed freedom of religion and other facilities.

FOREIGN SECRETARY BEVIN CANNOT SEE ANY REASON FOR A WAR WITH RUSSIA

GROWING RESTLESS

But Australians Not Only People Whose Nerves Are Jumpy

SYDNEY, Australia.—Australians are growing restless under post-war conditions. Psychiatrists in the five state capitals report huge waiting lists of men and women seeking advice on jumpy nerves, while patent medicine firms say sales of nerve tonics are climbing to record levels.

Main cause of this restlessness, they say, is a feeling that wartime sacrifices have been in vain. Men and women can see no fulfillment of the promised new order of living and they fear another depression.

Local factors are blamed in part for the situation. Chief among them is the housing shortage. Australia needs 70,000 new houses and the lack of some deliveries, crowded transport, packed restaurants and the difficulty of getting a beer in crowded public houses.

All these things, the psychiatrists say, make Australians feel nothing is being done to restore pre-war amenities.

But the restlessness is not confined to Australia, they added. It is a malady apparent all over the world. After two years, they predict, the feeling, a reaction to war strain, should have disappeared.

ROADS UNDER WATER

The Canadian Occupation Force In Germany Has To Deal With Floods

AMSTERDAM.—The Canadian occupation force area in Germany has been practically isolated for a week by washed out bridges due to floods but damage within the area has been surprisingly small.

Though the floods played havoc with communications elsewhere in the British zone, the Canadian area was largely free of inundation although the levels of streams and canals were raised. But bridges leading into Holland and to other parts of Germany were lost, one of the few exceptions being a bridge across the Weser river at Minden.

The first Canadian area bridge to go went out more than a fortnight ago, over the Ems river at Leer. Others at Harren and Meppen went out later. Even while the Meppen bridge was still standing the route towards Holland and the Amsterdam leave centre was impassable because roads were under water.

Set Of Records Of U.N.O. Assembly Meetings Were Microfilmed

LONDON.—The verbatim reports of the United Nations general assembly just ended here, both in French and English, were packed in a suitcase when the first contingent of 15 secretariat officials left London for U.N.O.'s temporary home in New York city.

A duplicate set of the records of all assembly meetings and committee and council proceedings has been microfilmed. As a consequence, a U.N.O. official said, the written record of five weeks' hard work by the delegates can be fitted into an average-sized woman's handbag.

SOVIETS ARE ACCUSED OF ATTACKING WEAK LINKS IN CHAIN OF WORLD SECURITY

LONDON.—Conservative Harold MacMillan accused Russia in commons of attacking "all the weak links in the chain of world security and peace."

MacMillan asked whether Russia wanted to dominate the world or was merely bent on insuring Soviet security. He opened debate in commons on foreign affairs.

Soviet diplomacy, he charged, "seemed to be concentrating upon outward pressure in the Mediterranean and in the Middle East"—the lifeline of the British empire.

Russian support of Yugoslav claims on Trieste, MacMillan said, has been a stumbling block in drafting an Italian peace treaty. He reported rumors of a "sudden and dramatic turn in Soviet policy," but did not explain.

Russian imperialism or promotion of international Communism are "possible explanations" of Soviet actions, MacMillan said. Uncertainties fostered by them, he said, "have created an atmosphere of suspicion. It only needed the addition of a spy mystery to complete the whole dreary picture."

Already, MacMillan said, an Anglo-Soviet-American alliance is virtually if not formally "in abeyance."

LONDON.—In an hour-long review of British foreign policy, Foreign Secretary Bevin advocated international control of the high-industrialized German Ruhr and said "I cannot conceive of any circumstances under which Britain and the Soviet Union should go to war."

Winding up a foreign affairs debate in the house of commons—the first in three months—the burly, outspoken foreign secretary said he had offered to extend Britain's 20-year friendship pact with Russia to 50 years.

Mr. Bevin asserted: "It has been said that we are drifting to war with Russia. But I cannot conceive any circumstances under which Britain and the Soviet Union should go to war. I cannot see what we should have to fight about."

There were cheers from all sides of the house when Mr. Bevin declared: "I am not prepared to sacrifice the British Empire because I know if the British Empire fell the greatest collection of free nations would go into the limbo of the past, and it would create a disaster."

The secretary, who at the recent session of the United Nations security council had cried "lie" to Soviet charges against his country, said he had made this offer to Foreign Commissioner V. M. Molotov at the December conference of the Big Three foreign ministers in Moscow.

"We have a treaty of friendship—and I mean friendship. If you want to change it from 20 years to 50 years I will advise my government to do it."

Mr. Bevin did not disclose the Russian reaction.

In an hour-long statement concluding a full-dress debate on foreign policy Mr. Bevin declared Britain is "troubled about what looks like a war of nerves between Russia and Turkey" and said that "I do not want Turkey converted into a satellite state."

In his review of the field of foreign relations, Mr. Bevin reeled off these points:

1. "I would be quite willing" if the Soviet Union would join Britain and America in an international oil agreement which "would solve this conflict for oil as between great Allies."

2. He advocated international control of Germany's industrial Ruhr and an agreement among the European countries on the use of transport facilities and industrial raw materials.

3. "I think we have removed fear" through the open—and often heated—discussions in the United Nations security council.

In reference to Turkey, Mr. Bevin said he would like to see "the treaty of friendship renewed between the Soviet and Turkey." The treaty expired last year.

As to the Dardanelles, he said Britain was ready "either for Turkey and Russia, themselves, or with us as allies, to consider a revision of the Montreux Convention."

BOMB DISPOSAL

EASTBOURNE, England.—A 500-pound bomb which fell here five years ago was blown up recently. The bomb was fitted with a clockwork fuse which might have started by movement, and experts decided the best method of disposing of the bomb was to explode it.

JAPS CONVICTED

MANILA.—Two Japanese officers were convicted and sentenced to death by a United States war crimes commission, and four others were sentenced to 30 to 40 years' hard labor for the torture killing of three unnamed American fliers on Panay Island in 1945.

Bill Kerr's Rink Placed
Second At Lethbridge

Jim Kerr and Frank Lamey
Failed to Win Their Way Into Jewellery.

Bill Kerr's rink of himself as skip, Jim Fisher, Henry Zak and Joe Fauville, was the only Pass rink to get into the jewelry at the Lethbridge shirt sleeve bonspiel which finished last Saturday. Jim Kerr's rink managed to get into the eight of two events, but failed to pass into the jewelry. Frank Lamey who had Harry Boulton skiping, won many games, but never advanced far enough to make it pay. They forfeited their game in one event on Friday as pressure of business at home necessitated that they be home on Saturday morning. Louis Maffioli, of Fernie, also failed to show in the jewelry.

Bill Kerr met J. O. Stewart, of Macleod, in the final of the Gas Company event, and lost out by two points in twelve ends after leading by three points at the end of the ninth. The winners received chests of silverware, while the runners-up received handsome chemise bedspreads.

Moderation

IS THE PATH TO LASTING PEACE!

Today, moderation is a necessity. By moderating our pleasures, by controlling unessential spending, we serve our nation and ourselves best.

The House of Seagram for many years has advocated moderation.

Now, during these days of adjustment, it suggests this even more strongly.

We Canadians can still enjoy comforts, standards and pleasures that less fortunate people are denied. But let us remember that the continuation of these advantages belongs only to those who treat them with respect.

Let moderation be our intelligent contribution to the future—

moderation in spending—moderation in all things we do.
